STAUNTON, VIRGINIA

The 1937 BLUESTOCKING

Dedicated

to

Miss Elizabeth Poole

IN appreciation of the respect, love and admiration she rightfully commands as one who in her vitality of youth, resourcefulness of thought, and nobility of character embodies the spirit of Mary Baldwin College, we the Editors, dedicate the 1937 Bluestocking to

Miss Elizabeth Poole

FOREWORD

THE story of any great venture is more graphically told by illustrations; memories are endeared and perpetuated by keepsakes of significance. So it is that the effort has been made in the 1937 Bluestocking to preserve, in the manner of an album, one year from the annals of Mary Baldwin College.

The Senior Song

While Mountains guard thee in the Shenandoah,
And loyal daughters daily look to thee,
The spool of happy days is fast unwinding,
Its colors rare, for memory's tapestry.
The tall, white columns gleaming in the sun-light.
The moon-light casting over all its spell,
The scarlet autumn, and the winter snow flakes,
Oh, Mary Baldwin, can we say "Farewell"?

May laughter ring, and dreams be ever golden,
Along the terrace there above the street,
May friendship live like truth's white flame a-glowing
Like truth's white flame that never meets defeat.
Where'er we be, we'll cherish with fond happiness,
That golden tapestry of memory's spell,
And ever we our faith and love will pledge thee,
So, Mary Baldwin, hail and farewell.

Senior Class History

Looking backward we need no crystal ball to stimulate memories of the glorious events of our first three years at Mary Baldwin, as we contemplate them from the perspective of a Senior.

Our first day here with the excitement of discovering roommates and the pleasure of meeting Dr. Jarman and Dean Pfohl, will never be forgotten. Freshman initiation; the trials and tribulations of our first year, and the growth of our attachment to Mary Baldwin are still vivid to us.

Our Sophomore year is best remembered, perhaps, as a "growing-up" year. We missed initiating the Freshmen; but that disappointment was soon overshadowed by our victory in hockey and our Sophomore-Senior banquet in Charlottesville.

Last year, our Junior year, shines brightest as a year in which we tested our abilities, worked together, and bound our class more closely by co-operation. We were successful in sports; also edited the BLUESTOCKING. For the first time we had a banquet given for us and were made to realize all over again that we were upper classmen. Elections and finally graduation revealed what our privileges and responsibilities as Seniors would be.

This, our last and best year, has been full to the brim—our feeling of amazement when we came in September and realized that we were really Seniors at last—the impressive and almost sad investiture ceremony—th fun we had giving the senior play—the Christmas party and caroling afterwards—the picnics Miss Famie had for us and the deliciousness of her "brownies"—exams—really getting to know Miss Hoon—banquets—graduation plans—and finally the last mad rush of commencement week with High Tea, Class Day, May Day, Graduation, and farewells.

We are a different class than we were as Freshmen back in 1933. We have built reality upon tradition and have, in contributing our bit, developed ourselves physically, mentally, spiritually, and socially.

Looking forward with eager anticipation, we leave Mary Baldwin with a feeling of sadness mixed with a desire for new worlds to conquer.

Junior Class History

Scene: a dusty attic; rain streams its course down a small eaves-window; as the curtain rises, Emmeline, a distinguished appearing lady of well-preserved middle age, is seen seated atop a generously belabeled trunk. She is turning the first pages of an old, faded yellow and white scrapbook.

EMMELINE: It seems almost incredible to realize that it's been twenty years since I packed my Mary Baldwin mementos away up here; and soon Dorothy will have added her souvenirs to this collection. I wonder if my tokens would seem silly to her. (She meditatively regards an arrangement of motley articles carefully pasted on a sturdy sheet.) Let me see—this is my scrapbook for 1936 and 1937. I was a Junior then.

Here's the handkerchief I carried to that tea we Juniors gave the Freshmen at the beginning of school. I felt so important then—it was my first experience at exercising my dignity as an upperclassman.

The script from the BLUESTOCKING Carnival, when we gave a minstrel show in blackface, and added to the featured attractions by the presence of several talented male faculty members. We held the carnival, after the show, in the gym, and were in our element, what with fortune tellers and target shooting in addition to all the other fun.

These dance bids—how mature I felt when I finally made the decision that I had outgrown the local cadet proms, and only the universities now merited my attention. Was there ever a M. B. C. Junior who didn't undergo that transition?

Then came the spring elections, when we saw our own classmates duly honored. Our importance was increased a hundredfold, because we felt we had started on the final turn.

My program from the Junior-Senior banquet—the high spot of that whole year. We presented the annuals to the Seniors then, and held our breaths for their approvals.

Here's the ribbon from my attendant dress—the last commencement at which as a class we were just spectators. Graduation, tears, and then the scurry from the presentation of diplomas to our departing sisters to the coveted Senior bench. (Emmeline smiles reminiscently.) And this was the final year of preparation and anticipation—in relics.

Sophomore Class History

Dear Jane:

I beg forgiveness for not writing sooner, but I've just spent the most exciting year and can't imagine, even now, that I have completed two years of college.

When I began my second year here, it was such a thrill to come back, and see all the friends I had made when I was a Freshman. It wasn't only grand seeing my old friends again, but it was also grand making many new ones.

Of course you know that it wouldn't be college unless the Sophomores initiated the poor Freshmen. It certainly was fun, because we made them do everything backwards. They were good sports about it all, which naturally made us fast friends.

One of the funniest moments of my Sophomore year was the Athletic Picnic. Our class put on a skit in the form of a Hollywood Premier, which you really should have seen. At least, everyone that we talked to thought we could outshine Hollywood.

Right before Christmas vacation we had the big BLUESTOCKING Carnival. Surely I needn't tell you anything about that except that our class had a bingo stand, and we had plenty of fun calling out those numbers. You'd have thought we had done it all our lives. Really, we were almost like professionals.

After the Carnival came the big excitement of Christmas, but in the back of our minds we could see very clearly exams. That didn't keep us from having a good time, though, and we came back to college ready to face whatever was ahead. The terrible blow was when we received our grades. One consolation was that we weren't as scared as the Freshmen, because we had gotten rather used to the sight of those little white envelopes that contain so much.

Just before Valentine Day, Miss Latimer, our class sponsor, gave us a grand reception, and entertained us beautifully by reading several selections. You've no idea how much fun we had. It was in all respects a perfect party.

One of our really big moments was the Sophomore-Senior banquet, May 5th. That was our last chance to do anything for the Seniors, and we more than enjoyed doing it.

At last came May Day and then Commencement. Commencement was both a sad and happy day for us. We hated to see the Seniors leave, but then we saw ahead two more years of happy times together.

This lengthy letter probably has you gasping for breath, but I just had to tell you about one of the happiest years I have ever spent.

Freshman Class History

Dear Alumnæ:

Knowing you are interested in what the Freshmen are adding to your old Alma Mater since September 16, 1936, we are obligingly enumerating events.

To start things off with a certain amount of dignity, there was the assembly of new students in the chapel, introducing us in the true Mary Baldwin spirit. There was tea on the terrace for us to meet the faculty members, which added a touch of the old southern atmosphere. Naturally the get-acquainted party was among the first on the list with the Freshmen scampering hither and yon beginning to get acclimated. The next event was the annual birthday dinner and Y. W. C. A. reception and candlelight service.

From party hat to dunce cap—Freshman day—candy, gum, etc., not to mention our unusual politeness. The Senior investiture was an assurance of what the future has in store for even us, the Freshmen.

Our sister class, the Juniors, honored us with a lovely tea in the upper back gallery, and Dr. Jarman gave us a "warm welcome" with his reception for us.

To prove our talent we gave a fashion show at the BLUESTOCKING Carnival, and, also, added much to the revue.

On Christmas we played Santa Claus for some little mountain children to whom we gave clothes and toys. And then for some packing—home for eighteen days. After Christmas, exams and the glorious free week-end. A few days before exams our sponsor, Dr. Taylor, complimented us with a series of lovely teas. The Freshman-Junior banquet and finally Commencement.

Can't you remember—the ringing of the bell in the club, Nellie's and Estelle's "There's a call by the Maid's Office," rolling up pajama legs to get to breakfast on time, undressing in the dark after lightbell, trying extremely hard not to oversleep and have to waste a cut, rushing for the mail every Sunday night, and the refreshments at nine o'clock, blind dates, forgetting to sign in, week-ends in Lexington—of all the countless things memories in the future years will remain vivid as milestones in happy school days—first sensation of homesickness, the last canter on a long ride, just making the last taxi enroute to the hockey field, the thrill of a packed trunk three weeks before vacation? It's all in the life of a college girl.

A Message From The President

The work of the Student Council is to serve as a nucleus for the activities of the Student Government Association. This association, which has as its basic principles co-operation and honor, is the governing power of the student body. The Student Council consists of girls elected to serve as representatives of the students. The purpose of the entire system of student government includes a higher aim than to merely control discipline and regulations. It has as one of its higher ideals the wish to serve as a helping guide for each student individually as well as for the student body as a whole.

The Student Council this year has tried to keep this ideal in mind throughout the year, and we trust we have made some progress towards that goal. We believe that this organization can aid students by giving them an opportunity to act on their own initiative, and to practice all the high ideals of Christian living.

A Message From The President

We have set our aims high and in so doing have endeavored to leave at Mary Baldwin an attitude of friendliness which will last. We have tried to concern ourselves not only with the religious activities, but also with the social life of the campus.

We have based our desire for individual happiness and success on friendship and willing service to others; and we can only hope that some have found through us a friendship and inspiration.

Believing a well-rounded personality to be the most important achievement of a girl's college years we, as an organization, have tried to help each girl develop a greater strength of character, nobler ideals and a deeper faith in Christ.

The Music Club, a branch of the Three Arts Club, was founded at Mary Baldwin in 1928, and is one of the school's most active and outstanding organizations. Its purpose is to promote and stimulate an appreciation of and an interest in music.

Membership in the club consists of two groups—the active members and the inactive members. The active members are those who can play an instrument or sing, and the inactive members are those who are deeply interestd in music, and cannot be classified as active.

On April 7, the Music Club sponsored a formal concert given at the College by the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club of Hampden-Sydney, Virginia.

This club is for those students who are talented in some line of art, or, who are interested in furthering their knowledge for appreciation of art.

Membership is necessarily somewhat restricted even though an attempt is made to include all branches and phases of art, but, anyone who is genuinely interested in any branch is accepted.

Each year the club attempts to sponsor a speaker or an exhibit for the benefit of the entire school. Among these are included exhibits both by students and outside artists. Lectures are planned and speakers from various fields are invited to address the meetings.

An interesting part of the program this year was the informal classes held for prospective artists, with student criticism. This was considered helpful to both the students and the critics.

The Art Club is a division of the Three Arts Club, and is part of the plan to correlate the three arts of Drama, Music, and Art.

Dramatic Club

OFFICERS

Margaret Hunt ..... President
Hettie Kennedy ..... Vice-President
Eleanor Cely ..... Secretary-Treasurer

The Dramatic Club is divided into two sections known as the Acting Group and the Non-acting Group.

To become a member of the Acting Group it is necessary to participate in the club try-outs, which are held at the beginning of the year, and to be approved by a committee composed of Dr. Latimer, the president of the club, and one other committee member. The students of the speech department are automatically members of this group and play an outstanding part in the functioning of the club: that of presenting the plays.

The Non-acting group is composed of those students who are interested in stage technique, make-up, and other phases of production. This group is not limited in number.

The Spring production by the club this year was The Swan, by Ferenc Molnar.

The club sponsored The Troubadours from Washington and Lee University in their production of Eugene O'Neil's Ah, Wilderness, on January 9th.

Glee Club

OFFICERS

Jane Bell Matton ..... President
Josephine Jackson ..... Vice-President
Betty Boyd ..... Secretary
Freda Hewes ..... Librarian

The Mary Baldwin Glee Club is made up of a group of girls who are interested in and enjoy singing. Its purpose is to establish a knowledge of music of all types and to encourage a genuine fondness for this branch of the fine arts.

A girl does not necessarily have to be a student of voice to become a member of the club but she must be able to read music fairly well and have a pleasing voice quality. These characteristics and a willingness to work diligently aid in making a good chorus.

This year the Mary Baldwin Glee Club has had an extremely interesting program. In addition to the usual group of concerts that are presented annually, it has presented concerts in collaboration with several of the neighboring men's colleges. These have proved to be very successful, and more extensive work of this sort is planned for the future.

Modern Language Club

OFFICERS

Ellen Morris Jones.....Chairman—French
Alice Borden Moore.....Chairman—Spanish
Marjorie Abbey.....Chairman—German

There are three separate units embodied in the Language Club—the French Club, Spanish Club, and German Club. Each organization has its own officers and each functions independently of the others. Membership requirements for the different clubs vary, but are determined generally by the number of years the student has studied the language, or by the standing she has attained. Of course a student may belong to more than one club.

The purpose of the Language Club is to foster a greater interest in modern languages and in the countries in which they are spoken, as well as to encourage the use of the spoken language. Programs are furnished by outside speakers as well as by the members of the clubs, and consist generally of songs, speeches or short plays and games.

Science Club

OFFICERS

Dorothy Cohen ..... President
Ethel Ray Coffey ..... Vice-President
Nancy Gilliam ..... Secretary
Adele Gooch ..... Treasurer

The Science Club is a new organization at Mary Baldwin this year. It has been organized to replace the Psychology Club of former years. However, its members are not only from the department of Psychology, but from the fields of Astronomy, Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, and the Social Science as well . The purpose of this organization is that of providing a medium whereby students may come to an integrated view of the several sciences and be stimulated to thought and endeavor along scientific lines. Membership in the club is restricted to a group of active members chosen from the majors, minors, and instructors in these departments; a group of associated members chosen from other students of the College who are in sympathy with the purpose of the club; and a group of honorary members, consisting of friends of the club, elected to membership in recognition of their active interest and support, and others who have made a notable contribution to the fields of Science. As our first honorary members, we have elected Dean Elizabeth Hoon and President L. Wilson Jarman.

International Relations Club

OFFICERS

Jane Dawkins.....President, First Semester
Jane Hindman.....President, Second Semester
Betty Bennett.....Vice-President

The International Relations Club, one of the leading organizations at Mary Baldwin, was founded in 1935 to further the interests of its members in foreign and current affairs as well as emphasize the best qualities necessary for good citizenship.

The club has thirty members, mainly majors and minors in History. Dr. Mary Swann Carroll, the head of the History department, is the faculty sponsor of the organization.

Meetings are held twice each month, and while the members on some occasions hold discussion groups, outside speakers of note are also invited to address the club.

Mary Baldwin was among the leading Southern colleges who were especially invited to attend the International Relations Conference held in Auburn, Alabama, this year.

Debating Club

OFFICERS

Alice Borden Moore ..... President
Virginia Aldrich ..... Treasurer
Dr. Mahler ..... Coach

The Debating Club was organized differently for the term 1936-'37. This year the first semester was used as a sort of preparatory period. The different members of the club prepared intra-mural debates among themselves which were constructively criticized. This method of approach was invaluable to the Freshmen debaters who had never before been instructed in the theories and technique of debating.

The second semester was emphasized by extra-mural debates scheduled with several Virginia schools. The first question debated was Resolved: "That the increasing equality of the sexes is deplorable." Mary Baldwin upheld the affirmative side of the argument and Hampden-Sydney the negative. The second debate was scheduled with the William and Mary Freshman team debating the Mary Baldwin Freshman team. The question was Resolved: "That utility rather than culture should form the basis of college curricula." Mary Baldwin upheld the affirmative side and William and Mary the negative. A third debate was planned between Mary Baldwin and Randolph-Macon College for Men on the national topic for debate, Resolved: "That Congress should be empowered to regulate minimum wages and maximum hours of industry."

Little Sisters' Club

OFFICERS

Anne Harrison ..... President
Blessing Whitmore ..... Secretary

Tradition plays a large part in the life of every Mary Baldwin girl. Such a club as the Little Sisters is a tradition in itself and for that reason has won a place of honor on the campus.

Its members consist of those girls who now have or have had sisters attending Mary Baldwin. These girls are bound together by a sense of kinship and by a common interest in the ideals they seek to perpetuate. The club is ably sponsored by Miss Nancy McFarland.

An outstanding event for the Little Sisters was on the occasion of Miss Baldwin's birthday on October 4, when a luncheon was given by the alumnæ to which they were invited. Social events play the largest part in the life of the club.

The club takes pride in its origin and seeks to pass on to future Little Sisters something of the ideals and wisdom they have learned here.

Granddaughters' Club

OFFICERS

Anne Harrison ..... President
Blessing Whitmore ..... Secretary

The Granddaughters' Club is closely akin to the Little Sisters' Club in its membership and purpose. Those girls whose mothers or grandmothers once attended Mary Baldwin comprise the membership. This club also has the privilege of being sponsored by Miss Nancy McFarland, who is an alumna of Mary Baldwin.

The background of the club is a source of justifiable pride to the present members who see in it opportunities and obligations to fulfill and live up to. Such an organization has shared in making the history of Mary Baldwin. It is the ideal of the Granddaughters to uphold the traditions already established and to pass them on to the girls who will follow.

The luncheon given by the Alumnæ on October 4, Miss Baldwin's birthday, was one of the important events of the year for the Granddaughters.

The Granddaughters have a trust to fulfill and it is their purpose to do so.

Garden Club

OFFICERS

Betty Bennett ..... President
Katherine Major ..... Vice-President
Mary Watkins Ayler ..... Secretary
May McCall ..... Treasurer

The Garden Club, during the year 1936-'37, has endeavored through meetings and other activities, to stimulate an interest in gardens and the place of flowers in the interior of homes. Special projects have been undertaken by the members whereby they were able to create the flower arrangements for the various social occasions at the college. In addition, short trips to gardens in and around Staunton were taken.

Riding Club

OFFICERS

Jean Bellingrath ..... President
Marjorie Beasley ..... Vice-President

The aim of the Riding Club is to sponsor and encourage horseback riding.

Riding has been an activity at Mary Baldwin since the year 1930-31. Anyone who is interested and rides while at school automatically becomes a member of of the club.

Besides ordinary riding on the roads and trails, a program of picnics and occasional moonlight rides is planned; at the Horse Show ribbons are awarded for excellence in performance in different classes, and a cup is presented to the best all around rider chosen by the judges at the Horse Show.

The Honorary Riding Club was organized in 1934 by Frances Woolford. The purpose of this particular Club is to recognize outstanding horsemanship; the aim is to promote good fellowship among the riders. To become a member it is necessary to pass a test given by the Riding Club President and Committee. This test consists of the rider's ability to control the horse in an emergency situation, the rider's knowledge of riding, and the rider's sense of responsibility.

Day Student Club

OFFICERS

Alice Gilkeson ..... President
Emma Ruth Siler ..... Vice-President
Ethel Ray Coffey ..... Secretary
Frances Yount ..... Treasurer

In 1929 the Day Student Club was first organized for the purpose of promoting active participation in all college activities among the Day Students. Since that time it has continued to be one of the active clubs on the campus. The President of the club is always an ex-officio member of the Student Council. The sponsor, Miss Fannie Strauss, was once a day student at Mary Baldwin.

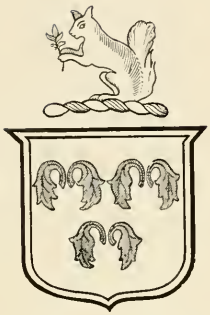
At the first meeting of the new session in September, a large group of Freshmen were welcomed into the club.

In October, the club entertained the college faculty at a Hallowe'en party.

A tea was given for the Resident students at the Stonewall Jackson Hotel in February.

Annually, in May, the girls from the Senior Classes at Beverley Manor and Lee High Schools are guests of the Club at a tea, at which time they are shown the campus and buildings.

The Mary Baldwin Honor Society



In 1932 the faculty established a society to be known as The Mary Baldwin Honor Society. Membership in this organization is conditioned primarily upon scholarship. The members are elected by the faculty.

The Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award

The New York Southern Society, in order to perpetuate the memory of Algernon Sydney Sullivan (through whose efforts the Society was founded), in such a form that shall be most expressive of his character, established an award to be made annually, in certain Southern colleges, to one member of the graduating class of each institution selected. Each school may present this award to one other person, not a member of the student body, in whom accomplishment and disinterested service are outstanding, and who shall have some interest in, association with, or relation to said institution. The recipients of the awards shall be chosen by the faculty of the school; the award is given in recognition of fine character and special effort in behalf of fellow students.

At the 1936 Commencement, Mary Baldwin College presented the awards to:

Mary Delia Nichols, '36, of Washington, D. C., President of the Student Body; Elizabeth Pfohl Campbell, of Arlington, Virginia, Dean of Mary Baldwin College in the years 1929-1936.

The Bluestocking

The BLUESTOCKING, the annual of Mary Baldwin College, is edited by the Junior Class and one representative from the Sophomore and Freshman Classes. Every year the Editor and Business Manager are elected by the Student Body; the supporting staff is chosen by the Editor and Business Manager, under the supervision of the Sponsor.

For a number of years, the BLUESTOCKING has progressed under the able guidance and tireless efforts of Miss Strauss, and it is to her that acknowledgment is made if achievement has been realized.

To you, the Class of '37, we express the hope that this yearbook will symbolize that intangible spirit that is such a vital part of your college life, and will recall to you, throughout the years, the pleasant associations and activities which are now so dear.

And, for you all, we trust that we have, in some way, enlivened and enriched the memories from one page of your album of experience.

Campus Comments

This year Campus Comments has attempted to express the individuality of the College in its issues, and has made several major alterations in style, make-up, and form.

In October Jean Diescher, editor, and Charlotte Bell, feature editor, attended the Associated Press Convention in Louisville, Ky., and here many ideas and suggestions were received that have since proved quite helpful.

Since Mary Louise Welton finished her college work in February, hands were changed in mid-semester, and Margaret Hunt became business manager. This change also necessitated the appointment of a new assistant editor, Betty Boyd, and a new make-up editor, Freda Hewes.

Campus Comments, being published weekly, attempts to cover interesting news on and off the campus. Students are encouraged to contribute to the paper and new staff members are always welcome. One of the main objects of Campus Comments is to stimulate an interest in world affairs and to bring the things of greater importance into the clearer vision of the student body.

Most predominant of all is the earnest desire of Campus Comments to aid in the inspiration to high endeavor so well known to all Mary Baldwin students.

The Miscellany

The Miscellany is a literary magazine published four times a year. The editor and business manager are elected by the student body and the rest of the staff is appointed by the editor. Two members of the English Department act as faculty advisers.

The duties of the Miscellany staff are by no means purely literary, for the entire publication of the magazine is in their hands. The business staff is concerned with advertising and subscriptions—with a dash of bookkeeping thrown in for good measure. The art editor works directly through the Art Department in receiving and selecting the illustrations—linoleum blocks are used exclusively. Certain other members of the staff study magazine form and make-up and spend most of their time at the printer's. Thus working for the Miscellany means participation in several different fields of activity.

It is the fond desire of the staff to leave behind forever those days when a literary magazine consisted mainly of approved term papers with several pages of vintage humor bringing up the rear. The chief purpose of the Miscellany is, of course, to encourage creative writing among the students, and then to present an attractive and interesting magazine to the student body as a whole.

Alma Mater

Thou wast born of dreams, Mary Baldwin, Mary Baldwin,
Woman's dreams of love and true desire;
Conqueror's dreams with passion's ardor glowing,
Caught from Truth's undying, pure white fire.
Born to live, to perish never,
To inspire to high endeavor,
To uphold that light forever,
Mary Baldwin.

Thou wast built of dreams, Mary Baldwin, Mary Baldwin,
Dreams of faith, the dreams of early dawn.
Thou shalt live beyond time's farthest limit;
Dreams shall last when walls of stone are gone.
Born to live, to perish never,
To inspire to high endeavor,
To uphold that light forever,
Mary Baldwin.

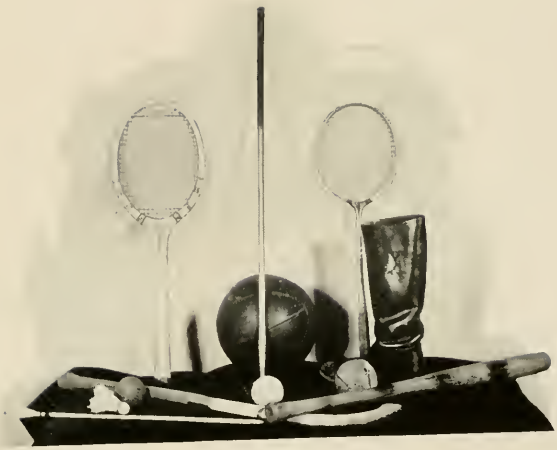
ATHLETICS



JANIS HOLLEY

President of Athletic Association

A Message From The President

The Athletic Association plays a very important part in the extra-curricular activities of Mary Baldwin College. The entire student body, of which the Association is composed, elects a council of girls who lead the activities of the various sports. This council, with the guidance of the director of Physical Education, plans and carries out the athletic program.

The Association stands for much more than athletic ability. It endeavors to instill into the daily habits of the girls sportsmanship, coöperation, self control, self confidence, courage, tolerance, wholesomeness and sincerity. It encourages students to adopt a program that will carry over after their college days. Another goal is to combine athletics with social activities. This is done through picnics, dances, and various other programs.

Through these characteristics the association offers to every girl opportunities for a healthful, sensible and sane way of living.

Hockey

The Junior team played hard to retain its championship from last year. In the final game, however, the Sophomores proved its equal, and the score was nothing to nothing.

Great team work was shown by the Freshman squad. It will probably continue its standing performance next year.

Much credit is due the Senior team for its very hard work in obtaining its one point of the season.

This year two squads, distinguished by their different colored suits, were chosen from all four class teams to play an exhibition game. This match closed the hockey season with a fast and exciting game ending in a score of four to two in favor of the green clad team.

Basketball

Basketball, one of the four major sports, is the center of activity during the winter months. All practices and games are played in the Staunton Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Rain or shine the girls turn out for the practices.

The games are started toward the end of February and run through the first of March. The Freshmen squad is always the largest and after it becomes organized proves to be one of the strongest. As a general rule the Seniors have the best spirit and, although hard pressed for players, turn out with a fighting team, that is better supported than the other classes. This year the championship game, played between these two classes, was won by the Seniors.

The highlight of the basketball year comes after the close of the season when the Seniors challenge the Faculty to a match. The game is one hilarious affair, thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Baseball

Baseball is one of the major sports at Mary Baldwin. It is played by the faculty as well as the students with great spirit.

At the annual picnic at Crafton Park there is an exciting game between the faculty and students. This gives the Freshmen a good chance to renew their high school baseball and also it gives the class sport leaders a chance to find her material for the Spring team.

The inter-class games are played during the last month of the college year. A varsity, chosen from the class squads, represents the eleven best players of baseball. This team usually challenges the mighty faculty team to a final game, which draws an unusually large crowd of spectators.

Track

Track, one of Mary Baldwin's six major sports, begins in the Spring. Practice is carried on at the Athletic Field in preparation for Field Day. Students from the various gym classes are required to participate in broad-jump, high jump, discus and javelin throwing. Personal scoring counts toward a class cup.

Swimming

Swimming is among the outstanding major sports at Mary Baldwin because it is a sport that lasts throughout the entire school year. The pool in the gym is always handy for those desiring an early dip or perhaps one before bed. The Y. M. C. A. pool is open on certain afternoons for those who want to practice their diving or special strokes after classes.

Monogram Club

The Monogram Club consists of the outstanding athletes in the college. These girls have earned six hundred points during the year and are rewarded with emblems of the club. At the Athletic Banquet, which is given in the Spring, the new members of the organization are announced and receive their monograms. All ambitious athletes in school work for the honor of becoming a member of this club.
